Alpha Delta Phi's Capture First in Special Feature Contest Program

Alpha's Rate High With All Entries

Alpha Delta Phi Athletic-Literary society won first place with every entry in the first special feature contest program Friday night November 19, in the college auditorium. Displaying their various phases of vocal talent, each of the four societies presented a men's and women's soloist, a men's group and a women's group.

Lambda Sigma Pi's opened the evening's program with Erlene Elmore, soprano soloist, singing "The Wind's in the South." A male quartet composed of Woodrow Morgan, Clive Price, Wendell Dobbs and Charles Rowe, sang "U. S. That Means Us." The girl's sextet, Sue Pruett, Erlene Elmore, Marjory Davis, Esther Thornberg, Leta Hockett and Mary Helen Schroeder sang "The Lord's Prayer." Woodrow Morgan sang "Danny Boy."

The Olympian contestants were Eleene Stewart, singing "Sun of My Soul"; "Honeysuckle Babe" was sung by the girl's trio, Margaret Rockwood, Norma Lee Squires, and Lois Brown. The men's solo, "Danny Boy" was sung by Edgar Kincaid.

Sigma Lambda Alpha's followed with June Douglas, soloist, singing "Goodbye." Their women's group, Nancy Gardner, Dorothy Peterson and Shirley Montgomery sang "The Cradle Song." Wilford Smith sang "The Lord Is My Light," and the male quartet, composed of Tom Leupp, Frank Cook, Dean Hempel and Wilford Smith, sang, "Love's Old Sweet Song."

The program concluded with the Alpha Delta Phi's contestants.

Wiley Lectures To Open November 29

Dr. H. Orton Wiley, president of Pasadena college will arrive this week end for a series of lectures from November 29 to December 3.

Under the auspices of the Miller lectures, Dr. Wiley will address theology students during their class period, and will speak in chapel next week.

An outstanding theologian and author as well as a college president Dr. Wiley is well known throughout the entire Nazarene movement.

He will be the first speaker of N. N. C.'s Miller series which was instituted last May.

CORLETT RETURNS FROM MEETINGS ON COAST

Dr. Lewis T. Corlett, president of NNC, left Sunday, November 14, for Seattle where he attended a meeting Monday and Tuesday of the preachers of the North Pacific district of the Nazarene church.

Dr. Corlett then went to Eugene Oregon, to attend a meeting of preachers of the southern district Wednesday and Thursday.

He returned to Nampa Saturday and spoke during the chapel hour Monday morning, reporting on his trip.

Budget Approved By Student Body

Budget for the Associated Students of N. N. C. was given a vote of approval by the student body Wednesday, November 17, following a report by treasurer Jim Kayser.

The apportionments, made on the basis of $2,000 were given the following percentage: Oasis, 37.5 per cent; athletics, 15; forensics, 7.5; athletic-literary societies, 7; Christian Worker's Band, 4.5; classes, 8; flowers, 1; Men's Club, 1.5; Associated Women, 2; Crusader, 9; Reserve fund, 7.

Any amount received over and above $2,000 has been placed by the Student Council in a reserve fund. To date, $2,348 has been received from the business office.

The Council voted against an apportionment for the N Club, stating that the Club represented a very small minority of the student body.

KNIGHT ARRANGES SPANISH SERVICES

Professor Roy E. Knight and a group of N. N. C. students have been holding Church services at a Mexican labor camp near here for the past two Sundays.

Professor Knight, who speaks Spanish fluently, has found the men to be greatly interested in the work, and eager for the services to be continued.

Last Sunday, students from the Spanish classes went out to sing, and provide music.

Included in the group were Professor and Mrs. Knight, Tina and Roscoe Knight, Esther and Herschel Thornburg, Dallas Quick, Marjorie Davis, Roscoe Townsend, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sodowsky, Wynell Eason, Rose Hartman, Charlotte Hume, Carol Hempel, Ed Howard, Leda Surface, Louise Ramsey, Betty McKinney, Eleanor Ernest, Wanda Davis, Mary Harmon, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Fulker, Darrell Larkin, and Maxine Larkin.

Afternoon Recital Presented Thurs.

Speech and Music departments of Northwest Nazarene College presented the first in a series of recitals to be given throughout this school year Thursday afternoon, November 18, in the Chapel.

The program included: piano solos by Duane Smith, Barbara Gish, Joan Hutchinson, Ramona Isgrigg, Betty Johnston, Dorothy Peterson and Dallas Quick; organ solos by Charlotte Hume and Jessie Ernest; vocal solos, Dorothy Nees, Dave Sullivan, Erlene Elmore; marimba solo by Mary Dixon, and dramatic readings by Dolores Castle and Roscoe Townsend.

ART POSTER GAINS U. S. RECOGNITION

Announcement was made in a letter recently received by Professor A. J. Finkbeiner, head of the Art department that Mrs. Mable Edward Hills had won first prize in a national poster contest.

The contest was held January 1 to April 5, was sponsored by the General Stewardship committee of the Church of the Nazarene. Students enrolled in all the Nazarene colleges were permitted to enter the contest. Professor Finkbeiner and Professor Bertha Dooley who were the committee for N. N. C., decided that all students in the English department could submit essays and students of the Art department could enter posters.

Mrs. Hills made three posters, all of which were sent in. One received the first prize of fifteen dollars, and the other two placed in the first ten division.

Winning posters will be used in the advertising campaign of the world wide stewardship drive made annually by the Church of the Nazarene. The winning essays will appear later in the Herald of Holiness.

Dr. Nease Pleases Student Audience

Dr. Orval J. Nease, General Superintendent of the Nazarene church, addressed N. N. C. students during the chapel hour Friday, November 19.

Introducing his talk by quoting from Edgar Guest's poem "Home," Dr. Nease told students that it takes a "Heap of livin'" to make a good Christian character. "One's problems are not automatically solved at the mourner's bench," he said, "but it takes living and working and the making of right decisions before you have a real lived-in structure."

"The gradual unfolding of personality as one walks with Christ is one of the most beautiful things in the world," he stated.

With its combination of wit, humor and unquestionable truth, Dr. Nease's talk was well received by the entire student body.

He closed a two-week meeting at Northside Nazarene church Sunday night.

Coeds And Collegians Pause To Give Thanks For Little Things In Life

Tomorrow's the day when Coeds and Collegians look out over the expanse of their turkey-stuffed waist-lines and ruminate a bit on the things for which they are thankful.

The Campus is filled with none-too-subtle reminders of small blessings . . . such as being grateful that the groove in the grass between the administration building and Kampus Korner hasn't been worn down to a deep trench . . . think how difficult it would be to climb in and out of it every time one felt the urge for a coke or a cup of coffee.

One can always be thankful that he's kept his grades up, and

Olympians To Present 'Elmer' in First Contest Program Friday

Herschel Thornburg, Olympian program Chairman will present the first contest play of the season Friday night.

Events Slated For Thanksgiving Day

A gala holiday atmosphere will pervade the N. N. C. campus Thursday as students celebrate the Thanksgiving holiday here at school.

A full day's entertainment is being planned, beginning with a late breakfast, which will enable students to "sleep in" tomorrow morning.

A four-o'clock Thanksgiving dinner at Morrison Hall will be the major attraction, with Ed Dowd as toastmaster. Lighted candles, a fire in the fire place, and a holiday theme will be used to provide a gracious and homelike setting for the affair. The program will include readings, quartet numbers and other special music.

At six o'clock the intra-mural basketball season will be opened in the gymnasium, and teams from all four Athletic-Literary societies will clash for an evening of entertainment.

Miss Marian Washburn is in charge of arrangements for the dinner, and Ed Howard will manage the evening's events. Classes will resume Friday morning with double cuts being counted against all absentees.

Thornburg To Direct One-Act Comedy

"Elmer," the story of a typical fourteen year old boy who makes things lively for his family, will be presented by the Olympian society Friday night at the first society contest play of the year.

As yet not all the characters of the play have been disclosed, but Herschel Thornburg, program chairman of the Olympian society, announced that the following cast has been selected: Elmer Collier, Gordon Pomphrey; Susan Collier, sixteen years old tomorrow, Barbara Anderson; Mrs. Collier, Naomi Fulkerson; Miss Luisa Phinney, a dressmaker, Evelyn Reichenger; Fannie Belle, a colored girl who works by the day, Margaret Rockwood; Hubert Brown, seventeen years old, Willard Midby; Russell Jameson, seventeen years old, Bob Hempel.

In addition to the one act play, the program will include musical numbers by a male quartet, a girl's trio, a brass quartet and a piano solo.

The stage committee includes Gilbert Wyatt, Faith Johnson and Wesley Smith. The make-up committee consists of Edna Miller, Elizabeth Webber and Marguerite Spencer.

Olys Win Dramatic Competition Firsts

The first competitive program of the Athletic-Literary societies was held in the chapel Tuesday, November 16. Olympians, represented by Willard Midby who gave an original humorous reading, and Virginia Kirley who gave a dramatic reading, rated first in the final results.

Contestants for dramatic readings were given by Willard Midby, Olympian; Burton Dippold, Alpha Delta Phi; Peggy Oldfield, Lambda Sigma Pi; Lanola Harshman, Sigma Lambda Alpha.

Contestants for dramatic readings included Erlene Elmore, Lambda Sigma Pi; Virginia Kirley, Olympian; Roscoe Townsend, Sigma Lambda Alpha; Juanita Eastley, Alpha Delta Phi.

Judging was done by a faculty committee.

appreciation for that subscription to a Superman Comic book that Cousin Elmer gave you when you went away to school . . . it's touching to think of the faith he had in you.

Thankfulness nearly overwhelms you when you remember that you finally won out over your roommate and next-door neighbors and got away, unnoticed, with one puny little cookie from the last box received from home.
